1. This opinion contains indications relating to the following items:

- ☒ Box No. I Basis of the opinion
- ☐ Box No. II Priority
- ☐ Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability
- ☐ Box No. IV Lack of unity of invention
- ☒ Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement
- ☐ Box No. VI Certain documents cited
- ☐ Box No. VII Certain defects in the international application
- ☐ Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA") except that this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of 3 months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

For further options, see Form PCT/ISA/220.

Basis of this opinion

1. With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.
☐ This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language _____, which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rule 12.3 and 23.1(b)).
2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
 - a. type of material
☐ a sequence listing
☐ table(s) related to the sequence listing
 - b. format of material
☐ in written format
☐ in computer readable form
 - c. time of filing/furnishing
☐ contained in the international application as filed.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.
3. ☐ In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table(s) relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.
4. Additional comments:

Box No. V	Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement
1. Statement
Novelty (N)	Claims	1-5	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	4, 5	YES
	Claims	1-3	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-5	YES
	Claims		NO
2. Citations and explanations:
Document 1: JP 2002-35527 A (Japan Atomic Energy Research Institute), 05 February 2002 Document 2: JP 47-48107 B1 (Esson Research and Engineering Co.), 04 December 1972 The inventions of claims 1-3 do not appear to involve an inventive step based on documents 1 and 2 cited in the ISR. Document 1 describes a gas separation unit for separating each specific gas from a gas to be treated containing a plurality of specific gases, wherein a gas to be treated is caused to pass through a filler in a column to separate each specific gas chromatographically from the gas to be treated. A gas separation unit for separating each specific gas from a gas to be treated containing a plurality of specific gases, wherein a plurality of columns having filled therein different absorbents from one another are series connected, or different absorbents are filled in one column, to cause the gas to be treated sequentially pass through the plurality of absorbents is a constitution commonly known to a party skilled in the art as also described in document 2; therefore, for the gas separation unit described in document 1, adopting the constitution described in document 2 to configure the invention so as to cause a gas to be treated to sequentially pass through a plurality of absorbents would be easy for a party skilled in the art. Also, the gas separation unit described in document 1 is such that a PFC gas discharged in a semiconductor manufacturing step is made to serve as a specific gas, and the gas to be treated contains a nitrogen gas as other gas. To the inventions relating to claims 4 and 5, the point of using zeolite and activated carbon as a filler for separating a specific gas containing NF₃, CF₄, and C₂F₆ is neither described nor suggested in any of the documents cited in the ISR; nor would they be obvious to a party skilled in the art.
